Mrs. Johnston Makes Bigamy a Plea for Dissolving One Tie.

Married Bogert While Drunk, Although Then Unger's Wife.

ston Whom Bogert Is Suing.

Judge Gildersleeve, of the Superior Court, to-day tried the suit brought by Mrs. Kate Johnston, of Nyack, to annul marriage she entered into with Willtam G. Bogert, on Aug. 31, 1887, on the lving at the time of the marriage.

Unger, to whom she was married in for several years prior to her marriage Unger she lived with her parents in West Fourth street. On the witness-stand Mrs. Johnston, who has since her marriage to Bogert arried a florist named John Johnston, testified that she was intoxicated at the testified that she was intoxicated at the time she married Bogert, and that he knew of her former marriage to Unger. She said that on the evening of the marriage she had been drinking with Bogert and some of his friends, but had no intention of marrying him. She admitted that after the evening of the marriage she lived with Bogert for about a year, but did not know of the marriage until Bogert told her of it, at least a year after she had been living with him.

In her complaint Mrs. Johnston had the record of the trial. Bosert's counsel argued that Mrs. Johnston could have no standing in court, because she did not come in with clean hands. The lawyer said that if any action for annulment of marriage was allowable it should be brought by Bogert', who did not know of her former martial relations with Unger. "He did know it! He did know it! shouled Mrs. Johnston, and her female friends in the court-room nodded their heads and said to each other loud enough to be heard. "That's right."

The defendant's counsel offered to put Bogert on the stand to allow him to testify that he did not know of the former marriage when he married the plaintiff.

former marriage when he married the plaintiff.

Judge Glidersleeve refused to allow Bogert to be put on the stand, as he said the only question for him to determine was whether, after marrying a second time with her first busband living, Mrs. Johnstone could come into court and have her marriage annulled, regardless of whether Bogert knew it or not.

After living with Bogert a year and separating from him, the plaintiff began an action for divorce from her first husband, Unger, which, she secured about two years ago. She immediately married her present husband, Johnston. It is alleged that in 1839 the plaintiff was acrested for bigamy, because of her marriage to Bogert, and that she pleaded guilty. Sentence was suspended. guilty. Sentence was suspended. Judge Gildersleeve reserved decision.

Law Regarding Granite Dressing Hinders Paving Contractors.

It has just been discovered that a law passed last Winter by the Legislature, and intended for the protection of the workingmen of New York City, was so framed that it will throw many me out of employment in the city and thousands in other places.

The immediate effect has been to hold up nearly fifty small contracts for paving, on which bids have already been re-

The law was introduced by Assemblyman Tobin, at the request of the Central Labor Union, and provides that "all stone used under contracts for municipal stone used under contracts for municipal works and improvements must be worked, dressed or carved upon the ground where the work is being done."

Corporation Counsel W. H. Clark has given his opinion to Commissioner Michael T. Daly, of the Department of Putlic Works, that this law applies to paving, as well as to building and other contracts.

A rigid investigation is being prosecuted to day into the cause of the collapse of the new building at 74 Monroe Street yesterday morning, which resulted in the death of nine people and contracts.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 11.—Soon after midnight a bold attempt was made. seven miles south of Denver, to wreck an eastbound Santa Fe passenger train for the purpose of robbery, it is believed. Spikes were pulled from the rails, and the engine, baggage-car, coach, chair-car and sleeper ran off on the ties. The damage was trifling and no one was hurt, but the track was blocked about five hours.

The ground for the robbery theory is that a man called at South Denver early in the night, and intimated that the train was to be wrecked and robbed. Orders were given for it to proceed slowly, but it was not supposed that the attempt would be made so near the city, and the train was running at a speed of eight miles an hour. There is yet no ciue to the miscreants.
